1. Records description

46 documents (agendas, informative notes, lists, notes, papers, proposals, reports, surveys) relate to the Council of Europe activities carried out in the field of modern languages during 1994, in particular by the Council for Cultural Cooperation, the Secretariat of the Council of Europe and the Eurocentres Foundation.

The papers focus on:

- Common European framework for language teaching and learning;
- language learning for European citizenship;
- using information and communication technologies in modern language teaching and learning in Europe;
- foreign language education in primary schools;
- curriculum development in modern languages for European understanding and cooperation;
- language in use: situations, text-types and activities in speech and writing;
- structures, policies and strategies in education;
- European youth campaign against racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism and intolerance;
- democracy, human rights, minorities: educational and cultural aspects.

The records include information about the elaboration of the Common European framework for language teaching and learning.
